

Convergence to equilibrium for nonlinear evolution equations

Songmu Zheng, Shanghai

In this talk I will give a survey on our recent study of convergence to equilibrium for nonlinear evolution equations. Two basic approaches are used to obtain these results, namely, the Simon-Lojasiewicz approach, and a lemma in analysis first established by W. Shen and S. Zheng in 1993.